

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

The Racoon Club, an informal group of morning coffee drinkers who gather at Southtrust Bank to socialize, decided to help clean up Elba last Saturday. They got together with work release people and picked up 75 garbage bags of trash. "We hardly made a dent in it," said organizer Jim Driscoll. He now hopes to inspire other groups to hold a monthly clean-up day to get trash off the roadsides.

We keep learning and learning. This country boy thought baby beds were for someone else to worry about. We thought our age and three grown children were enough to get us away from that chore. However there were Saturday afternoon putting together baby beds. It seems wife Hedy had decided the church nursery needed two more beds for the infants and guess who she decided would help her with the work! It took a little fumbling for us to recall just how those things worked but we finally won the battle and got the beds assembled.

Ducks Unlimited is planning their annual local fund raising banquet for next Wednesday night. We understand the guns to be auctioned are on display at Ace Hardware if you want to dream a little. The affair will be held at the Elba Country Club. There is a news article about the banquet and Ducks Unlimited in the sports section this week.

Monday at 1 p.m. we were leaving the office, heading downtown when we saw one of those rare sights. We stopped at the stop sign coming out from the hospital area on Drayton Street and looked down Highland Drive as we are supposed to do. There at the bottom of the hill behind the hospital was a grown deer! A doe was just off the asphalt and a buck with a nice rack was standing right in the middle of the road with his head held high. He was looking straight up the hill, apparently watching us stare at him. The pair finally ambled off the road, apparently watching us stare at him. The pair finally ambled off the road, apparently watching us stare at him. The pair finally ambled off the road, apparently watching us stare at him.

Tuesday was voting day most everywhere. In Elba a lot of people don't bother to vote but this doesn't include Mary Anna Magwood. This 101 year old lady had one of her sons drive her to the Army Reserve Center where she cast her vote like a good American is expected to do! She didn't have to ask anyone how to vote either because "She takes care of her business herself". Mrs. Magwood lives in her own home on Taylor Mill Road. Salute!!!

We hope all our readers got their favorite candidate elected... that is unless you were one of those reading our plans and KNOWING this meant to vote for the other candidate. The only trouble we know our announcement last week caused was in the Cox household. Hedy always makes it clear she is voting like she wants. We, by the way, have no problem at all with that idea. She was concerned this past weekend that the editorial "we" used in this column would cause people to think that was the way BOTH of us were voting. Folks there are times when we vote for the same candidate, but it surely isn't always. "We" informed her she wasn't going to see an end to the pronoun and had better find some other way to let folks know just how crazy she might think the selections happen to be.

ANOTHER TRAILER LOAD FOR ADOPT-A-FAMILY!...The man on the end of the couch (on the ground) is James McCarty. Thursday morning, October 25th, Mr. McCarty accompanied Doug Thrash, a driver for Floyd & Beasley Transfer Co. of Sycamore, Alabama, to Elba with a trailer loaded with furniture, appliances, blankets and some clothing. The items were being donated to the Adopt-A-Family Program to be distributed to flood victims. Spearheading the drive to collect the items was the Cross Trails Baptist Brotherhood in Talladega County. The trailer load of "goodies" along with $325.00 in cash was a result of three weeks of collecting by the Brotherhood Organization. The use of the tractor-trailer for transporting the items was donated by Floyd & Beasley. To the good people of Sylvania & Talladega County - WE SAY THANKS!!!

Millie's Views

By Millie Lott

Well today we went to the polls and elected our state and county officials, qualified or not, I know! In a happy individual. Maybe now we will be able to watch T.V. without all those political advertisements. I don't know about any of you, but my T.V. time is very limited and watching crime "dud flings" isn't my thing. At least we'll have 2 years before it starts over again.

The other day I received a phone call from Mrs. Rita Jackson. She was very concerned about rumors circulating around town about her recently deceased son, Scotty Wayne Norris. Spouting as a friend of the family this also upsets me. Apparently some folks are saying that Scotty was a drug user. According to Mrs. Jackson, the autopsy reports showed no sign of drugs.

To my knowledge I have never witnessed him take part in any such activities. I have known Scotty since we were both in the 7th grade, he was a good person then and continued to stay that way throughout the rest of his life. Scotty may have done some things in his life to upset a few, but doesn't everyone. He was after all only human and had his own faults.

He is gone now, and with due respect to him. It is time to stop!

KINSTON'S BAND WINS BIG!! The Kinston Marching Pride recently went to the Dixieland Band Festival in Brewton, Alabama where they received superior ratings. They also participated in the Little Bighorn Marching Festival in Opp where they again received superior ratings. You can see from the trophies in the picture above, they done good!!! The band is under the direction of Terry Spader.

Dear Editor:

Reports have appeared in your newspaper recently about an unfortunate incident involving a Coffee County employee who has been charged with embezzling monies from the county's general fund. As I understand the situation, she has been released on $20,000 bond, and an extensive audit of all county departments is underway. Although I don't live in Coffee County now, it has long been "home" to me and five generations of my family, and I make a constant effort to stay with its events.

I honestly believe that one of the most unfortunate effects of this entire incident is that the county is not out just one employee (who has acknowledged her guilt), but it's out two employees. Sgt. W. R. "Buddy" Ammons, husband of the accused, has been employed with the Coffee County Sheriff's Office for about six years, and has never given anything less than his "all" to that job. I understand that, at this time, he has been temporarily suspended of his Chief Deputy position as a result of "police" and/or "procedure," but speculation suggests that he may never fully return to that job. This would be unfortunate - not only for him, but even more so for the county.

You have to understand from what perspective I view this unfortunate incident. Although I first met Sgt. Ammons five years ago while touring the Elba courthouse during Industrial Day, my first "real" contact with him occurred three years ago. He and other law enforcement personnel met me in the emergency room of the Elba General Hospital. They were the first contact I had with civilization after I escaped two days of being held captive and raped by a man that kidnapped me at gunpoint from the Elba post office. To many of them, I was a piece of evidence, but Buddy realized and respected that I was a "real" person. During the ensuing investigation and prosecution crisis-counseling or victim-assistance resources available to us, but Buddy filled that void. He never once was too busy for us - day or night, he would answer our calls and our questions, and reassure me that the system would work. And now this legal/political system may end up working against an innocent man who believes in it.

I honestly feel that Buddy was the greatest contributing factor to taking off the streets of Elba and locking this man up. He was also the greatest factor in my recovery. At the time, I was a 20-year-old college student whose life was shattered. Since then, I have won a 180° turn. I finished my degree and now work in Montgomery while volunteering as a trained rape counselor and being very active in the victims-rights movement.

I still have many friends and family members in Coffee County, and I'd like to think that such an exceptional law officer would be available to them should they ever need him. In my recent work in the field of criminal justice and victims rights, I have had the opportunity to meet many law enforcement officers across the state, but I have yet to find another the caliber of Buddy Ammons, who consistently goes above the call of duty.

Sgt. Ammons has appeared at various seminars and workshops over the years focusing on fighting drug abuse. And in the recent past, he has worked in cooperation with Covington, Pike, Dale and other nearby counties in their fight against crime. In March, when floodwaters inundated the city of Elba, he was constantly at the disposal of the citizens.

The Alabama Bureau of Investigation has stated that Sgt. Ammons is not a suspect in the embezzlement, yet he has been suspended. Buddy Ammons is a rare breed among law enforcement officers, and law-abiding residents of Coffee County should eagerly avail his return to the Sheriff's Department. Coffee County need Buddy Ammons.

Dear Editor:

1. Everybody coming together to put on a school fall festival.
2. Selling a raffle ticket to help a school reading program.
3. Buying a raffle ticket to help a school reading program.
4. Saying "yes" when called to work at the fall festival.
5. Wanting to be a crossing guard for the fall festival because you care that not one person gets injured even if you are not getting paid.
6. Giving the school a good deal on the building you use for the fall festival - $100.00.
7. When asked you were glad to bring a cake for the cake walk or baked goods.
8. Being there to make the festival a success.
9. Not waiting to say I wasn't called to help, just showing up and saying what can I do to help.
10. Donating money or goods when not able to help any other way.
11. Taking your turn to do a haunted house.
12. Being glad to help put on a talent show.

This is just a few of the ways I can think of to support the school fall festival. Yes it was a success even though we had a few obstacles to overcome.

Thank you our high school woodshop classes our games were built and painted which was a great help. A few parents came to help decorated the American Legion building with the art work of our students grades K-6. Our games were worked by some parents, teachers and high school students.

Now to clarify what goes with the money that is raised at the fall festival. Part goes to pay expenses such as food, prizes and clean up help. Part goes to buy a workbook for each and every child whether you helped raise the money or not the workbook. The rest is there ready to purchase what our teachers could use the most to help better educate our children.

You know there was a time if it were not for the PTO our children would not have been able to have all the workbooks or teacher supplies needed to help them get through the year. And thanks to the support in the past after the flood the PTO was able to purchase things that were lost for the school.

So really what I am trying to say is if we keep saying I work let the ones that don't work do it all, it will soon get to where we won't have a PTO and it will be our children that get hurt in the long run. And is you were one of the one that helped support the fall festival this year I would like to thank you.

Seventh Grade Class Receives Letters From Saudia Arabia

Thirty-six students in Sylvia Padgett's seventh grade study skills class sent letters of support and curiosity to Fort Rucker's 2nd battalion of the 229th Attack Helicopter Regiment, known as the Flying Tigers presently stationed in Saudia Arabia.

The letter-writing campaign served a two-fold purpose. It served to let these men know that there is support at home for their presence there. Also, the letter writing was meant as an educational activity for the students since letter writing is an important part of a language arts class.

This week the students received letters from Stan Wicker and Steven Talbot.

Although educational, the activity was an emotional experience for the students when Mrs. Padgett shared their replies to the class. Besides the letters, they also sent Saudi Arabian currency and a copy of the "Flying Tiger" insignia which various members had autographed.

In an effort to try to understand the living conditions of the regiment there, Mrs. Padgett has shared information about the country. Mrs. Padgett also secured some MREs (Meals Ready to Eat) and shared with the class. These are commonly referred to as Meals Rejected by Ethiopia. The students learned from Steven that when he arrived in August that they had three of these meals each day. Now they get two a day with a hot "T" for dinner. "A T-Rat" is kind of like a big T.V. dinner," Steven said, "but not as good."

Steven and Stan both wrote about the weather. They said the temperature reached 140 degrees to 150 degrees F during the day and dropped to 110 degrees F at night. By December they expect temperature to drop to 40 degrees F.

Stan wrote the country was 90% desert - desolate to say the least. He said there were hundreds of square

LIBRARY RECEIVES CHECK! Max Hand, Director of the Cross Trails Regional Library, presented Mrs. Davis Taylor with a check for $945.00. The check represented the proceeds from the recent sale of books donated to the Elba Library after the March flood. Mrs. Taylor expressed appreciation to the Elba National Guard which transported the books, 3 truck loads, to Opp for the book sale sponsored by Cross Trails Library.

Couple Honored With Reception

While some things were planned for Karmen and David other just happened like a lavish reception for this couple.

The Opp Country Club was a most appropriate setting for this event. A large group of out-of-town relatives, special friends and neighbors enjoyed the occasion.

Beautiful floral arrangements of roses, from the yard of Robert and Louise Cooper, and arranged by Jean and Betty Vaughan, enhanced the entrance where the guest assembled. Here the guests were served frosty punch and enjoyed greeting and visiting before the entering the ballroom.

The many tables were dressed in snowy white party clothes. Centered on each table were more roses and candles adding formality and elegance to the party room.

The table settings held a variety of delectable fare. The "piece de resistance" was breaded chicken breast supreme. It was complemented by tasty vegetables, baked fruit, fresh salad and tempting desserts.

Serving as toastmaster for this joyous occasion was Mr. Bill Stokes. Much fun, frolic, and merriment followed when Mr. Stokes gave his permission for other special persons like David's childhood playmates, schoolmates and all allotted time to "get it off their chest and tell it like it was!"

Among them were Phil Hayes, Pete Cash, John Collier, Chris English, Pete Dorsey, Troy Brown and George and Gene Dorsey and others and Bobby Baker.

David's Pi Kappa Fraternity brothers helped to enrich this segment of entertainment.

Karmen's Sorority sisters Chi Omega, with other wedding attendants, were full-fledged and most synonymous with graceful good taste and sorority style. They included: Kimberly, Robin, Lisa F., Lisa D., Yvette, Sara, Julie, Debbie, Tracey and Ellen, just to name a few. Their entertainment fit the event, their sparkling themes added color and flavor.

Enjoying this memorable affair with David and Karmen were her father Mr. Earl Madden and Mrs. Madden, also her mother Mrs. Maxine Mutter and Mr. Mutter along with David's mother Betty Benton Dorsey and perhaps other family members, as well as a large host of friends.

Naming a few of the host and hostesses for the reception: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Meachem, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stokes, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Vaughan, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Foy Spurlin, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Collier, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Warr, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stephens.

Kenneth Grantham, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Rob English, Mr. and Mrs. Jule Davis, Mrs. Catherine Dorsey, Mrs. Helen Rainier, Mr. Fred Harper.

Elba City School's To Recognize Retired Teachers, November 13th

The Alabama State Board has adopted a resolution endorsing "Retired Teachers Day" as Tuesday, November 13, 1990. Elba City Schools plans to celebrate this day to honor and recognize our retired teachers by inviting any and all retired teachers to come by the offices at our temporary location on Larkin Road for refreshments on Tuesday, November 13, 1990. Any retired teacher that served our children as an elementary level teacher is invited to come by the Elementary School Office between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. on the 13th. Teachers who served at the High School Office during the same time.

Gordon - Chancellor Wedding Held October 27th In Dothan

Sherri Lynn Chancellor and David Lane Gordon, both of Dothan, were united in marriage Saturday, October 27, at 4:00 p.m. at Southside Baptist Church in Dothan.

The Rev. Kenneth Ray Chancellor, father of the couple, officiated the candlelight ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Ray Chancellor and Mr. and Mrs. David Eugene Gordon. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

A program of wedding music was presented by Angie Pearson of Albany, vocalist; Sherri Chancellor (the bride); vocalist; Mike Lindsey, organist; and Luke Landers, trumpet.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Kevin Flowers of Elba, cousin of the bride.

Serving as maid of honor was Miss Ashley Wall of Albany.

Bridesmaids were Ms. Ginger Ray of Dothan, sister of the groom; Mrs. Spencer Morgan of Millbrook, sister of the groom; Ms. Cindy Clark of Dothan, sister of the groom; Mrs. Benjamin Wells of Augusta, Ga.; Mrs. Danny Pettis of Kingston Springs, Tenn.; and Mrs. Bruce Reagan Rankin of Dothan.

Mr. Cody And Mrs. Knowles Unites In Holy Matrimony

Cathy Lynn Knowles and Craig William Cody were united in marriage August 25, at the First United Methodist Church in Enterprise. Rev. J. Walter Ellisor officiated the double ring, traditional candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Knowles of Enterprise. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil F. Cody also of Enterprise.

The wedding was directed by Mrs. Ann Vezzey, of Alexander City, aunt of the bride.

A program of music was presented by Mrs. Mary Alice Martin, organist, and Mrs. Alice Brunson, soloist, both of Enterprise.

The church doors featured wicker baskets filled with enchantment lilies, majestic daisies, laticre, snapdragons, carnations, daisies and elegance in shades of lavender, purple, plum, fuchsia and white.

Hurricane lilies draped with purple and lavender ribbons flanked the entrance walkway.

On either side of the altar was a massive arrangement of mixed summer flowers in shades of the wedding colors.

At the altar was a large central arrangement holding burning tapers and decorated with polished English ivy. Large candle trees holding burning tapers were placed on either side of the altar. Sets of seven branch candelabra were placed among ferns throughout the church area.

White bows marked family pews. The registry table was adorned with a lace cloth over linen. Silver candelabra held a burning white taper. The four tiered sugar wedding cake was nestled in fresh flowers and greenery and was adorned with a bride and groom.

The groom's table was covered with a beige imported hand embroidered and cut work cloth and held a square chocolate cake adorned with a golfing scene surrounded by deep purple flowers and placed on a square mirror. The table featured a miniature bear bride and groom.

Buffet-style finger foods were served from tables draped in bridal linens centered with a large arrangement of mixed summer flowers in shades of the wedding colors.

The punch table featured a silver punch bowl and was served by Stephanie Alberson.

The bride's cake was served by Regina Bowden and Lynn Sullivan. The groom's cake was served by Angie Davis.

Richard and Jennie Dunn passed out birdseed bags.

The couple departed in horse drawn carriage with deep purple bows, driven by the late Olin Byrd of Enterprise.

Following a wedding trip to Orlando, Florida, the couple will reside in Enterprise.

Out of Town Guests Included: Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Adcock of Foley, Alabama; Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Adcock, Jr., & family of Madison, Miss.; Dr. Joe Adcock of Foley, Al.; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Lee Jones; Mrs. Scott Speigner, cousin of the groom; Mrs. Geary Hancock, all of Enterprise and Miss Cindy Alagan, of Dothan.

They were matching gowns of deep purple satin designed with a boat-neckline, dropped waistline and elbow length sleeve. The opera length skirts were accented with a double bow at the waist.

The attendants carried crescent design bouquets of mixed summer flowers in shades of wedding colors, made by the groom's mother.

Ashlyn and Amelia Jones served as flower girls. They wore floor length dresses of white and lavender with deep purple ribbon accenting the bodice and sleeves.

They carried lavender wicker baskets tied with bows and purple streamers, filled with spring flowers.

Cecil Cody, father of the groom, served his son as best man. Groomsmen were Shane Harrison, cousin of the groom; Dothan; Lee Jones; Geary Hancock; Scott Speigner, cousin-in-law of the groom and Derek Wilson, all of Enterprise. They wore Black Christian Dior Tux.

Aaron Jones served as ring bearer. He carried a white satin pillow with purple and lavender lace inserts, accented with purple ribbon streamers and pearls.

The mother of the bride chose a tea length two piece gown of French Crepe Georgette accented with silk venise lace with long sleeves. She wore a corsage of white roses. The groom's mother chose a tea length two piece Patra Lurex gown. The bride was adorned with gold and silver accents. She wore a corsage of white roses.

Mrs. R. H. Knowles, of Birmingham, grandmother of the bride chose a tea length two piece gown of mauve lace over mauve crepe of Georgette. She wore a corsage of white roses and carnations.

Mrs. Clinton J. Stewart, of Elba, grandmother of the groom chose a two piece gown of mauve crepe of Georgette. She wore a corsage of white roses and carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was hosted by the bride and the groom's parents in the Fellowship Hall of the Church. Piano music was provided by Mrs. Martin.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth over linen. Silver candelabra held a burning white taper. The four tiered sugar wedding cake was nestled in fresh flowers and greenery and was adorned with a bride and groom.

Three In One Study Club Holds November Meeting

The Three In One Study Club met on Nov. 1 in the home of Mrs. Mary Lowery.

Mrs. Lowery served delightful refreshments to those present.

The program for the afternoon was "A Gospel Sing".

Mr. Mart Gray, minister of music at the First Baptist Church, led the group in singing gospel songs, requested by the members. Mr. Gray gave many interesting facts about the songs.

Mr. Gray delighted the members by a piano solo rendition of "How Great Thou Art".

Mrs. Pauline Allen gave a seasonal devotional.

Mrs. Harley Hastey, presided over a business session following the program.

Members present were the hostess, Mrs. Lowery, Mrs. Harley Hastey, Mrs. Fleetwood Carley, Mrs. Edward Hudson, Mrs. R. H. Lee, Mrs. Fulton Spurlin, Mrs. E. M. Warr and Mrs. Pauline Allen.

PASTOR'S CORNER

Rev. Winston Jay - Minister

Elba United Methodist Church

Dr. William Sangster, in one of his books, recounts an event which he saw from his study window, which was on the second floor of his home. The neighbor's 5 year old boy was in the backyard building a windmill. He did it by loosely nailing a thin, flat piece of wood to the end of a fence post. To everyone's surprise, the crudely made little windmill came the little windmill would flutter and turn. It thrilled the little boy to see his invention working. He thought he had a real windmill and windvane. But Dr. Sangster said the instrument was so low to the ground that it wasn't catching the main wind flow, it was only catching the currents. It turned from side to side, giving no true direction, but picking up a flutter even when the backdrop was slammed shut. All the while, said Dr. Sangster, he could see the window of his study the wind-vane on the top of the high steeple of the church, registering a steady southeast wind from the coast.

For many, life is like the little splinter on a stick, turned and twisted by the low currents of life but having no strong faith to give direction and meaning to life.

Life, without faith in God, is life without meaning and purpose. Faith does remove the problems of life but equips us to deal with them in a positive manner, and gives us the assurance that with God's help we can face whatever is before us.

May you find in Him, the guiding force that gives direction and meaning to all of life.

Senior Happenings

Memory Books

By Deana Grant

The senior class recently got their memory books. These books help the seniors record memories from their years of school.

One of the most popular things to place in the memory books are photographs. Pictures of family members, friends, and special occasions are the most common. Ticket stubs, programs, and other souvenirs are also very popular.

The memory books have pages which can be dedicated to special people in a senior's life. There is a page for a special date, a special friend, and a page dedicated to the student's parents. There are also pages to record special occasions, such as homecoming and the prom.

To most seniors the best part of the book is the autograph section. This is a place where classmates and friends can write special good-byes and wishes to success and happiness to each other.

These books help to establish a permanent memory of a senior's year.

Spirit Chain

By Denise Flowers

The Zion Chapel Senior Class was awarded a pizza party for building the longest chain link rope during Homecoming. Each class was given a certain color link and the class who had the longest chain at the Homecoming Game won a pizza party. The links were bought for ten cents or 2 for 25 cents or 12 for $1.

The Senior Class won with 2,586 links. The Junior Class came in a close second with 2,546. The Freshmen came in third. The Sophomores came in fourth. The seventh grade came in fifth.

FBIA Club "Treats" Teachers

By Pam Langley

Zion Chapel Chapter of Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) has completed their October service project. The FBLA service project was turning in membership dues to state office by October 15 and giving the teachers appreciation cards.

The bags for the treats included various candies. Included in the treat was a sausage biscuit from Hardee's. The bags were decorated with a colored FBLA emblem on a yellow and blue background. The emblems were tied to the bags with yellow and blue ribbons.

A committee of five people prepared the teacher treats. Pam Langley, committee chairman, collected 50 cents from members to fund the treat. FBLA Historian, Aimee Routzong, helped to cut out FBLA emblems to be placed on a yellow and blue background. Stephanie Adkins and Marsha Davis colored the emblems. FBLA member, Donna Jacobs, helped deliver the treats to the teachers along with Marsha Davis and Pam Langley.

Many teachers said they enjoyed the treat provided by the FBLA.

Harvest King and Queen Named

By Stacey Black

Randall Brunson and Angela Pugh were named Zion Chapel's Harvest King and Queen at the 1990 Fall Festival. Randall is the son of Terry and Sheryl Brunson. He is in the first grade. Angela is the daughter of Eddie and Helen Pugh. She is in the first grade.

Other contestants competing for king and queen were Ashley Thompson, Charity Register, Brandon Arnold, and Jared Flowers who represented the Kindergarten classes. Cassey Rhodes, Randall Brunson, Angela Pugh, and Jeffery and the eighth grade came in sixth place. The pizzas came from Little Caesars. Pizzas in Enterprise. Sixteen large pepperoni pizzas were ordered. The seniors were also given soda to go with their pizza. Each student was given four slices of pizza. The seniors were divided among the ones that wanted more. Jeffery Flowers was the champion of the pizza eating. He ate twelve slices of pizza.

The Junior Class was given cake and sodas for coming in second place.

Beta Club Tutors Football Team

By Marie Jackson

To fulfill one of their service projects, the Beta Club is tutoring members of the football team. The tutoring sessions are held every Tuesday night in the high school library. The sessions are from six to eight o'clock. Coach Sammy McGee collected grade sheets from each of the players. The grade sheets contain the averages of every subject the players take. If the player had a below 60 average in any subject, they were required to have tutoring in that subject. Some of the subjects the players needed tutoring in were American History, advanced biology, English, and mathematics.

A football player could be exempt from a tutoring session if they bring Coach McGee proof of doing better in that subject. At the second session, there were fewer members of the team that needed tutoring. The sessions will be held all year.

Stacey Black, Donna Holcomb, Camille Haynes, Sharon Rodgers, Denise Flowers, Pam Langley, Tawana Neal, and Deana Grant are the tutors from the Beta Club.

Z.C. Fifth Graders Observe Crickets

By Marie Jackson

Mrs. Suley's fifth grade science class spent some time observing crickets. The purpose of the experiment was to observe a cricket and learn how its body helps it survive. The first thing the students had to do was gather materials. The materials were one cricket, a small jar, tissue, a rubber band, a small terrarium (for the class to share) and some bread crumbs. The students were divided into six groups. Each group put their cricket into a jar. They then placed the tissue on top of the rim of the jar. The students counted the crickets legs, and carefully observed how the crickets used each pair of legs. The students recorded the results of their observation on a chart.

The students did several activities to determine reactions of the crickets.

Once activity was using a pencil. They slowly pushed the pencil through the tissue and gently touched the crickets antennae with the tip. The result was that the cricket jumped out of the jar. Another activity was putting bread crumbs in the terrarium with the crickets. They observed how the crickets used their antennae, legs and mouth to come near the food and to eat the food. They also observed the crickets to see how they make sounds. They found that the crickets rubbed their legs together to make the sounds.

Being a cheerleader can be very expensive, says varsity cheerleader captain Shannon Ward. The cheerleaders are required to purchase one uniform, socks, shoes, pom-poms, and camp wear. Two fundraisers a year are sponsored by the Varsity Cheerleaders to pay for various needs and the price to attend a summer camp.

The ability to work with people easily is a very valuable asset when it comes to being a cheerleader. Along with the spirit, self motivation, and pride it takes to be a cheerleader, each varsity cheerleader must possess all of these qualities for a school to have a successful cheering squad.

Tomorrow night at the Zion Chapel - New Brockton football game the Quarterback Club will be selling Bar-B-Que sandwiches in the concession stand.

The Quarterback club supports athletic activities so come to the concession stand tomorrow night and purchase on of the sandwiches.

 Rebel Band News **

Wins Award

By Aimee Routzong

The Zion Chapel Marching Rebel Band scored straight superior ratings at their final competition at the Tenth Annual Little Bighorn Marching Band Contest in Op on October 20.

The Zion Chapel Rebel Band met at school for a quick run through and pep talk. The Rebel Band took the field for competition at 1:45 p.m.

The Little Bighorn Marching Contest is divided into four divisions (A through AAAA). Zion Chapel competed in Class A with twelve other bands. Zion Chapel earned Best in Class with an overall score of 94. This was the third highest score earned by any of the 26 bands present. The Rebel Marching band won Best in Class at the Op contest in 1982, 1986, 1987, and 1990. Zion Chapel also holds the record at the Little Bighorn contest for earning the Best in Class award in Class A with a score of 93.

The band was judged by Mr. Jim Knight, Mr. Dan Doyle, and Mr. David Seaton. The Rebel band earned a superior rating from all three judges. Music, marching, and general effect was the main judging points for the band.

Zion Chapel colorguard, under the field command of Marie Brunwell, was judged by Ms. Pam Williams on marching and maneuvering and general effect. The colorguard earned a superior rating with a score of 90.

The percussion section under the leadership of Donna Holcomb also earned a superior rating. Their judge was Mr. Bill Jalbert. The percussion, with a score of 85, was judged on music, marching, and general effect.

The Zion Chapel Marching Band has completed their marching competition in the Silver Division at the National Peanut Festival Marching Contest. The colorguard was named Best in Class in this contest. Drum major Regina Cole was named Best in Class in both the Drum and the Op Contest.

Parties Hearty

By Donna Holcomb

The Zion Chapel Rebel Band attended a masquerade party sponsored by the Rebel Band Boosters. The purpose of this party was for the band members to relax and celebrate the achievements of their team. The party was held at the home of Mrs. Amanda Ford, band director.

In order for the members to attend they were required to wear some type of costume. Mrs. Amanda Ford, band director, was chosen for having the best costume. Mrs. Ford was dressed as a bag lady. She received six cupcakes decorated with Halloween treats.

The entertainment for the evening was dancing and socializing. Soft drinks, chips, dip, and assorted candies were refreshments for the party.

The purpose of the party is to continue the bandmanship and friendship of both bands.

Plays Host

By Camille Haynes

The Zion Chapel Rebel Band will host an after game party for the New Brockton Gamecock Band. The party will be held after the Zion Chapel and New Brockton football game, in the Rebel bandroom. The party will last about one hour. The refreshments will be sandwiches, chips, dip, cookies, and candy. The refreshments will be furnished by the Rebel Band Boosters.

The purpose of the party is to continue the bandmanship and friendship of both bands.

Shannon Ward Is Only Sr. Cheerleader

By Wendy Chancellor

Shannon Ward is the only senior cheerleader on Zion Chapel's Varsity Squad. Shannon is the daughter of Larry and Judy Ward. She has been a cheerleader for a total of five years, and she serves as captain of the cheerleader squad. Shannon enjoys being a cheerleader, shopping, talking on the telephone, and most of all spending time with her family and friends. Upon graduation Shannon plans to continue her education by going to George C. Wallace in Dothan and majoring in nursing.

If there are any folks out there who have children that are grown and miss the little things that go along with raising kids, just come on over to the Mularz house. We are beginning that ole favorite "potty training" and I'll be glad for some expert to come over and take my place. The first chapter, which took place some six years ago, wasn't all that bad. However, our number two gal just doesn't seem to realize the importance of hitting the pot and I'm already tired of cleaning up the bathroom after every attempt. I know I'll get better, but I'm still open for help!

ELBA TIGERS EXPLODE IN 47-18 WIN OVER ANDALUSIA

The Elba Tigers needed a quarter to get their engines warmed up, but then took off at full-speed and left the Andalusia Bulldogs in the starting blocks as they raced to a lopsided 47-18 win over the 5A challengers. The score was not enough, but could have been much more, and the dominance of the Tigers was a joy for all to see. Maybe the Tigers are finally ready to flex their muscles and make another run at a state title!

The Elba offense had all kinds of problems in the first quarter against Andalusia as the Bulldogs crowded the line of scrimmage in an attempt to stop the running game and force the Tigers to pass. The plan worked perfectly, until Marcus Tyson broke loose for a 48-yard gallop and John Jacobs tossed a 41-yard scoring pass to David Rowe, and then the plan simply went down the drain as Elba scored 40 points in less than 16 minutes of the second and third quarters to blow the game wide open.

One of the high points of the game was the running of tailbacks Greg Thigpen and Marcus Tyson. Thigpen gained 125 yards in 11 carries and scored 2 touchdowns, while Tyson ran for 132 yards, one touchdown and set up another score with a long run down to the one-yard line. The duo gave the Tigers quite a 1-2 punch at the tailback position and combined for 258 yards and three scores, not a bad night!

Perhaps overlooked in the offensive explosion was the leadership displayed by quarterback John Jacobs. Jacobs caught a lot of the blame from some folks for the Tigers' early season woes, but in recent weeks has matured into a top-notch high school quarterback and Friday night had another good night running, passing and running the offensive attack. Jacobs' leadership qualities are beginning to show and the results are obvious.

While Jacobs' exploits weren't that easy to see, the same wasn't true for the exploits of David Rowe. Rowe caught a 41-yard touchdown pass early in the game on a pattern in which he just outran the Andalusia secondary and later brought the crowd to its feet with a 50-yard punt return and then back up again with an 84-yard return for a touchdown. Rowe averaged 43 yards per return on punts in the win and really provided a spark that ignited the Tigers.

Elba Tigers to travel to Slocomb Friday night for Area 2 championship battle with 7-2 Red Tops

The Elba Tigers will be looking to add yet another Area championship to their long list of football accomplishments Friday night when they travel to Slocomb to battle the highly-touted Slocomb Red Tops.

The Tigers will carry a 7-2 record, including a 3-0 Area slate, into the matchup, while Slocomb will enter the contest with a 7-2 record, 2-1 in Area competition.

An Elba win would give the Tigers the Area championship and hand Laverne the runner-up spot, while a Slocomb win would give the Area title to the Red Tops and leave Elba as the runner-up.

Slocomb, a 4A playoff participant in '89, has claimed wins over Abbeville 9-0, Geneva County 19-6, Geneva 47-26, Dale County 34-22, Headland 43-7, Louisville 27-6, and Rehobeth 32-6, while losing only to Daleville 14-7 and Laverne 32-17.

The Red Tops have one of the top offensive teams in the state, averaging over 26 points per game, and boast several of south Alabama's top offensive performers.

William Huff leads the Red Top ground game with 836 yards and 9 touchdowns, while the real fire works come in the air, where quarterback Cory Wood has hit on 70 of 129 passes for 936 yards and 12 touchdowns. When Wood goes to the air he has a trio of sure-handed receivers to look for, with the favorite being speedy J.J. Price, who has pulled in 29 passes for 419 yards and 6 touchdowns.

"Slocomb has been aiming for this game since the season started and you can bet they will be fired up and ready when we get to town Friday night," stated Elba's Coach Mack Wood. "The Area championship and the homefield advantage in the playoffs will be on the line, but for Slocomb a loss will eliminate them from the playoffs and send Laverne. So, you can see that Slocomb has a lot to be playing for and they'll be ready to win."

"On offense," stated Wood, "they have a balanced attack and are equally successful running and passing. They like to put the ball in the air 10-15 times a game and have a real good quarterback and three good receivers. They also have two solid backs that can hurt you running, and cause defenses trouble with the balance in their attack. Over on defense they will gamble at any time and will really get by on the football. They don't believe in sitting back on defense and seeing what will happen. They will blitz, stunt and do whatever they can to stop their opponents offense. The defense is a gambling type defense that goes full-speed throughout the game and meets at the football."

"For us to win," stated Coach Wood, "we'll have to be able to pick-up their different looks on offense and be balanced, while on defense we'll have to be physical up front, put pressure on the quarterback and play real smart in the secondary."

"They have put everybody at the line in some game to stop the run," added Wood, "and in other games they do things entirely different. We can't worry about what they are doing or we'll get beat. We have to be able to lineup, block whatever defense they use and move the football. We'll have to be quick, pick-up their stunts and take advantage of what they give us. Our defense will be tested all over the field and will have to play its best game of the season. We'll have to be physical up front to stop their running game and at the same time be able to put some pressure on their quarterback. If we give him time he's hard to stop. So, we'll have to rush the quarterback and make him work for everything he gets. In the secondary we'll have to be disciplined and remember our assignments. If we leave someone uncovered we'll get beat and if we don't do our best we'll be in trouble. It's hard to play real good defensively when you're ahead 40-0 in the third quarter," said Wood, "but our players played hard all game and played well against an explosive offensive team. We gave up a couple of big plays in the second half, but it wasn't because of a lack of effort and we'll work to improve."

"A football game is split up in three areas," stated Wood, "the offense, the defense and the kicking game, and Friday night we won all three. Joel Kirkland punted the ball the best he has all season, Jamie Bass continued to get better on extra-points and kickoffs, and David Rowe really gave us a spark with his kickoff and punt returns. David has a lot of talent and he is beginning to put it to good use."

You may not have noticed, but the offensive line has come together in recent weeks and is playing like one unit instead of five individual linemen. The linemen hold hands in the huddle, declare their "Tiger Pride" vocally at times in the game and then fire off the ball to open holes for the backs. The line was supposed to be a strength coming into the season, and while it took a while, it looks like it has arrived.

The defense gave up 15 points a week ago and 18 more points Friday night, but those figures are deceiving, because the defense has played two of its best games of the season and surrendered points only after the outcomes have long been decided. Against Andalusia the defense totally shut down the explosive Bulldog attack throughout three quarters and hit harder than it had all season. Linebackers Ronald McKinnon and Shane Blanton had their usual solid game, combining for 25 tackles, while Ronnie Joe Edwards and Bennie Wilkerson had big games in the line and Marvin Luckett had his best game of the year at defensive end. The defense didn't, but doesn't back very often, and is still the strength of the team.

Looking back at the win, I'll have to admit that the Tigers surprised me with the ease with which they handled the 5A Bulldogs. I had watched films and felt like Andalusia was much better than their record indicated; however, the Tigers pushed them all over the field and could have scored a bunch more, if had wanted to. Maybe Andalusia's 2-7 record is an indication of how bad it really is, but I'd rather think the Bulldogs aren't really all that bad, it was just that Elba was that good.

WILKERSON IS PRIME EXAMPLE OF TIGER DEDICATION

There has always been something special about football at Elba High School and the people who played for the "Black & Gold." Many Tigers and business, while many others played their hearts out and after graduating simply went to work, raised a family and then kept their Tiger pride and dedication alive through their support of the team. It is that pride and dedication that keeps the Tigers on top and always will!

One such story of pride and dedication that has taken place this season has gone virtually unnoticed. Defensive noseguard Bennie Wilkerson, is as big as any of the players he lines up against, but every Friday night "Poo" plays his heart out and almost always is one of the team's leading tacklers. Wilkerson injured knee ligaments early in the season, but decided to put off any possible operation until after the season, and missed only one game while he was waiting for a brace. After getting the brace, Wilkerson cracked the kneecap on the same leg and many thought the season had come to an end for the gutsy, little tiger. Not so, Wilkerson had the knee drained of fluid and began running up and down the bleachers in the stadium to strengthen the leg and knee and shorten his stay on the sidelines. After missing two games, Wilkerson was back and in the past two games he has made a dozen tackles and two sacks.

Being injured is just part of the game for any football player at any level, but for Bennie Wilkerson, being injured was simply a challenge to overcome in his quest to be his best and to be an Elba Tiger. As long as there are youngsters like Bennie Wilkerson in Elba you can bet pride and dedication will be a major part of the Elba Tigers!

"They have put everybody at the line in some game to stop the run," added Wood, "and in other games they do things entirely different. We can't worry about what they are doing or we'll get beat. "It is hard to play real good defensively when you're ahead 40-0 in the third quarter," said Wood, "but our players played hard all game and played well against an explosive offensive team. We gave up a couple of big plays in the second half, but it wasn't because of a lack of effort and we'll work to improve."

"A football game is split up in three areas," stated Wood, "the offense, the defense and the kicking game, and Friday night we won all three. Joel Kirkland punted the ball the best he has all season, Jamie Bass continued to get better on extra-points and kickoffs, and David Rowe really gave us a spark with his kickoff and punt returns. David has a lot of talent and he is beginning to put it to good use."

REGULAR SEASON WINDING DOWN FOR COUNTY TEAMS

This is week #10 for high school football across the state and in Coffee County a season that started off shaky has turned in to another solid year. Elba (see related paragraph), New Brockton and Zion Chapel have all clinched playoff berths, while Enterprise can claim a spot this week. Only Kinston has continued its struggle. Here's a quick look at week #9.

ZION CHAPEL showed up and had no trouble at all in blanking Dozier 21-0. About all the Rebels did was show up, because at times it looked like they had left their minds and desire back at the house. It could have been the fact Dozier was winless or it could have been the fact New Brockton was coming up next. Whatever the reason, the Rebels had better get their act together real soon, because tough games are straight ahead.

NEW BROCKTON took out a season of frustrations on on Kinston Friday night and the result was a 35-0 blowout. The big win was just what the doctor ordered for the Gamecocks and after a disastrous start it looks like the Gamecocks are finally starting to put things back in place. A win this week would erase a lot of bad memories.

KINSTON fell to 0-9 with the big loss to New Brockton and it looks like the Bulldogs may very well go winless. The Bulldogs had high hopes prior to the start of the season and seemed a sure bet to challenge for a state playoff berth; however, the wheels came off the wagon a long time ago and new coach Maury Coale couldn't put cin back on.

ENTERPRISE upped its record to 3-5 by slipping past Carver and Wildcat fans are now thinking the Cats have a real shot at making the playoffs. It's true that Enterprise isn't as bad as their schedule may indicate; however, the win over Carver wasn't all that impressive and while things are better, the Cats are a long way from being healed.

PLAYOFF FAVORITES NOT HARD TO FIND IN ALL CLASSES

The state high school football playoffs will start next week and even though the season still has one week to clear up some question marks, it's not hard to find the favorites in just about every classification. Here's what it looks like one week before the start of the "second season."

CLASS 1A - Courtland has won two straight state championships and this season has outscored its opponents 191-24 while whipping up on such folks as 2A champ Hazlewood, 3A power Lamar County, 4A Colbert County and Cherokee County and 5A Emma Sansom and Oxford. Should Courtland stumble (which isn't likely) look for Autaugaaville, McKenzie and Parrish to be ready to step forward.

CLASS 2A - Ranburne and Hatton are the favorites in this class and both teams are 9-0 on the season. Ranburne has blanked 5 opponents, while Hatton has averaged 38 points a game and claimed 4 shutouts. Other strong boys include Clay County, Excel and Straughn.

CLASS 3A - Plainview is 9-0 and has been atop the polls since week #2 and has averaged over 34 points a game. Brookwood Christian is also 9-0 and making a lot of noise, while defending champ Elba is 7-2 and has whipped three 5A schools. Others worth watching include Lineville and Sylva.

CLASS 4A - This class is filled with talent and has such powerhouse teams as North Jackson (9-0), Daleville (9-0), B.B. Comer (8-0), T.R. Mill (8-0) and Tallassee (8-1) waiting to battle it out for the title. Don't forget Pike County, the two-time defending state champs have won six straight.

CLASS 5A - Fayette County (9-0) and Etowah (8-0) have both made a lot of believers while coasting through a tough schedule, while Citronelle (8-1) is a sleeper and other teams with more than enough talent to take the title include Gadsden (5-2) and Greenville (7-2), who has lost only to 6A powers Jackson-Olin (9-0) and Carroll of Ozark (7-2).

CLASS 6A - Last week's loss by Murphy, to Vigor put this class up for grabs and it looks like a real shootout. The winner of this week's 1-2 battle between Woodlawn and Jackson-Olin will enter the favorites, but waiting in the wings will be Murphy, Vigor and Prattville.

FORGET THE LUCK, AUBURN'S TIME HAS JUST COME

I've always believed that you make your own luck and never paid any attention to all the experts that kept writing about how "lucky" Auburn was in the closing seconds. I'm not an Auburn fan, but the Tigers won with dedication and believing that they would no matter what the score. However, after so many close calls, sometimes your number simply comes and such was the case Saturday night when Florida drubbed Auburn 48-7. A whipping often has a way of making folks mad, and it will be interesting to see what Auburn looks like this week. I bet the Zion Chapel's Jeffery Flowers (7) heads around the corner behind two Rebel blockers as he picks up big yardage in last week's 21-0 win over Dozier. The Rebels will put their five-game winning streak on the line Friday night against New Brockton.

The New Brockton Gamecocks gave a large homecoming crowd plenty to cheer about Friday night as they pounded the winless Kinston Bulldogs 35-0.

The win was the third straight for the Gamecocks and gave New Brockton a 4-5 record, while Kinston fell to 0-9 with the loss.

The Gamecocks received the opening kick and needed only three plays to begin the rout. Adrian Cason returned the kick 28 yards to the Gamecock 43-yardline and two plays later Albert Covington took a pitch and raced 39 yards into the endzone for the first touchdown of the night. William Moguel booted the extra-point and with only 1:37 gone in the game the Gamecocks were off and running with a 7-0 lead.

New Brockton got the ball back on a punt at the Gamecock 20-yardline and once again needed three plays to reach paydirt.

A 63-yard pass from Rex Caldwell to William Moguel was the key play in the drive, while the score came when Covington blasted over from 12-yards out. Moguel added the p.a. and with 7:10 left in the opening stanza New Brockton was ahead 14-0.

New Brockton's Adrian Cason recovered a Bulldog fumble on the Kinston 15-yardline on the first play following the ensuing kickoff and while the distance was shorter, this time it took the Gamecocks six plays to cover the distance.

A 12-yard pass on third down and 12 was the key play in the short scoring drive, while the score came when Adrian Cason bulldozed over from 4 yards out. Moguel again nailed the extra-point and with 5:01 still left in the opening stanza the Gamecock fans were already getting ready for the dance as their team was on top 21-0.

New Brockton's Robby Lobdell recovered a fumble at the Kinston 40-yardline on the Bulldogs' next possession to put the Gamecocks' back in business and New Brockton quickly marched to a first down the Kinston 11. However, two running plays netted only 4 yards and when two passes fell incomplete the scoring threat came away empty-handed.

New Brockton may have missed out on the scoring chance, but got the ball right back when Kinston fumbled on second down at the Bulldog 17-yardline and the Gamecocks' Freddie Brust recovered.

A Rex Caldwell pass to Robert Kilow on first down gave the Gamecocks the quick score and Moguel's p.a. was again true, upping the New Brockton lead to 28-0 with 9:05 still left in the first half.

New Brockton got another turnover late in the half at the Kinston 26-yardline, but the Gamecocks failed to punch it in and at the half New Brockton was still on top 28-0.

New Brockton got the ball on a Bulldog punt early in the third quarter at the Kinston 37-yardline and wasted little time extending its lead as on second down Adrian Cason got the call and rammed 32 yards for a touchdown. William Moguel added the extra-point and the Gamecock lead was up to 35-0 with 8:47 left in the third quarter.

Kinston took the ensuing kickoff and marched to a first down at the New Brockton 27-yardline behind the passing combination of Joey Rayburn to Danny Dorrill, but came up short on fourth down at the 25 and turned the ball over on downs.

New Brockton began another march toward the Kinston goal line following the defensive stand and behind the running of Robert Kilow moved to a first down at the Bulldog 27. The drive died only one play later, however, when Kinston's Joey Rayburn pounced on a fumble at the 29.

Kinston had a final chance to get on the scoreboard late in the game following a blocked punt, but the Gamecock defense held and preserved the shutout victory 35-0.

Albert Covington gained 91 yards on 9 carries to lead New Brockton, while Robert Kilow added 59 yards on 13 carries and Adrian Cason gained 45 yards on 6 carries. William Moguel caught 2 passes for 75 yards.

Kinston was led by Chris Austin with 33 yards on 14 carries, while Danny Dorrill caught 3 passes for 31 yards. Defensively, the Bulldogs were led by Joey Rayburn with 11 tackles and 3 assists, Jon Courson with 8 tackles and 4 assists and Jeff Spry with 7 tackles and 4 assists.

Rebs dump Dozier 21-0

The Zion Chapel Rebels earned a spot in the Class A state playoffs Friday night as they dozed past the winless Dozier Tigers 21-0, in Dozier.

The win upped the Rebels record to 6-3, while Dozier fell to 0-9 with the loss.

The Rebel offense was in a deep sleep throughout the opening stanza, but awoke late in the second quarter and scored on a 5-yard run by Jeremy Law with 4:14 left to grab a 6-0 lead. Steve Brill added the extra-point and at the half the Rebels went in with a 7-0 advantage.

Rebel coach Sammy McGee had his troops wide awake at the start of the third quarter and the Rebels wasted little time as they quickly marched down for another score.

Tracey Woods got the score on a 6-yard scamper with 8:56 left in the stanza and Brill added the p.a., upping the Rebels' lead to 14-0.

Zion Chapel got the ball back midway through the stanza and this time scored on a 46-yard pass from Jeffery Flowers to Dennis Smith to finally take command.

Brill added the extra-point and the Rebel lead was up to 21-0, with a quarter still left to play.

Zion Chapel moved the ball in the final stanza, but never again crossed the goal line, and at the final horn had the lachrymose 21-0 win.

The undefeated Elba PeeWee Tigers will participate in a football jamboree on Saturday, Nov. 10, in Opp.

The Tigers (6-0) will battle Opp at 12:30 p.m. at Channell-Lee Stadium.

ROUND AND ABOUT

WITH ERIA - 897-2006

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but fools despise wisdom and instruction. My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother.

For thy shall be an ornament of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck.

My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not.

If they say, come with us, let us lay wait for blood, let us lurk privily for the innocent without cause.

Let us swallow them up alive as the grave; and whole, as those that go down into the pit.

We must find all precious substance, we shall fill our houses with spoil.

Cast in thy lot among us; let us all have one purse.

Drug Awareness Week

During Drug Awareness Week those attending the Institute and Seminar sponsored by the Mulberry Missionary Baptist District Association by all accounts was a great success.

A play was presented by the Alabama Correctional Center of Clato, Alabama, Sunday, November 4, 1990. In the Mulberry Association and Educational Building, Elba.

The title of the play: "Why Kill Me". The drama was about real people, with real problems in the real world. It also dealt with black on black crimes.

Speakers for the event were Dr. L. C. McMillan a Pike County Juvenile Judge, Dr. Carl Hollis a alternate school instructor and Rev. Mullins of Enterprise.

How To Care For Aluminum Cookware

Angela G. Hughes - County Agent

Care Of Aluminum Cookware

Aluminum cookware is prized for its lightweight durability and heat conducting qualities. Regular care calls for washing in a solution of liquid dishwashing detergent and water. Stains can generally be removed with a steel wool soap pad.

Severe stains and discolorations can be removed by boiling a solution of two or three tablespoons of cream of tartar, lemon juice or vinegar for each quart of water in the utensil for about five to ten minutes. Then lightly scour with a steel wool soap pad. The cooking of acid foods such as tomatoes or cabbage will remove stains naturally, yet not affect the food.

Since undissolved salt can cause pitting in aluminum surfaces, always add salt to liquid after it is boiling and stir so the salt dissolves completely. Salty and acid foods should not stain in aluminum utensils for long periods of time.

Use of cooking utensils of wood, plastic or smooth-edged metals to prevent scratching of the aluminum. The cookware may be washed in the dishwasher although aluminum darkens when exposed to certain minerals an alkalies found in some foods and water. Avoid placing cookware directly in front of the detergent dispenser so that it does not come in contact with undissolved detergent.

Electric Heaters In Bathrooms

Recent chilly nights may have caused many of us to turn on the heat in our homes.

Portable electric heaters should not be used in bathrooms or near other sources of water in the home. The availability of small, lightweight portable electric space heaters may make it easier to heat rooms such as the bathroom. If electric heaters are used near water in the bathroom, the appliance poses an electrocution hazard for all family members.

Most heaters do not have protection against electrocution should the appliance come in contact with water. For this reason, electric heaters should not be used in bathrooms. Ground fault circuit interrupters (GFCIs) can be installed in any wall outlet to protect against electrocution hazards and are particularly desirable for outdoor outlets and in bathrooms, kitchens, basements and garages.

A GFCI constantly monitors electricity flowing through a circuit. If an electric appliance accidentally topples into a sink or tub, the GFCI will shut down the power in milliseconds to protect the consumer against electrocution. Portable GFCI shock protectors can be plugged into outlets when electrical products are used in or around the home.

Throw Wild Animal & Birds Some Peanuts

Dan Presley - County Agent Coordinator

Throw 'Em Some Peanuts

If you'd like to give the local birds (and squirrels) a bit of variety in their diet, go to the local super market and buy a bag of peanuts. The basic roasted in the shell peanut will do. Peanuts are a treat for many wildlife species. Offer them an you'll be treated to attention getting performances as your birds and squirrels find and start enjoying this new treat.

Left in the shell, chipmunks, squirrels, jays, and many woodpeckers will take all you can offer. Picture a little chipmunk trying to stuff a three nut unshelled goober into his cheek pouch. Jays hide the peanuts in strange places. Next spring, you can go on a treasure hunt, the course charted by the birds.

Hang a batch of unshelled peanuts in an onion bag, suspended well out of the reach of squirrels and you'll create a neat feeder for small woodpeckers and titmice. How a downy woodpecker knows that it should land on plastic netting and, with nearly surgical precision, remove a peanut kernel from the shell, I'll never know. I never lose interest in watching the process.

For weaker billed birds, shelled peanuts are the bills of fare.

Pieces of peanut kernels are the favorite of bluejays, tufted titmice and white-throated sparrows. The heats, however, the peanut product most commonly found for sale in bird feeding specialty stores, are highly attractive to starlings, and species many find unwelcome to the feeder.

Chopped peanut kernels are terrific sources of protein and fats for some birds that infrequently visit feeders. Thrashers, thrushers, creepers, wrens, some warblers and some of the smaller sparrows will search for small bits of peanuts at your feeders or on the ground.

Septic Tank and Water Quality

A large percentage of the homes in Coffee County rely on a septic tank system to dispose of household waste water. These septic tank systems have to meet certain health regulations when they are installed. If they are properly maintained, they are environmentally safe according to the water quality experts. A septic tank that is not operating properly can be a source of ground water pollution.

A few common sense precautions should keep your septic system working well over a long period of time. It's important to know the locations of all the parts of your system and to keep heavy vehicles away from them. Also, avoid planting trees or shrubs near drain tiles - their roots can clog drain lines.

Be careful of what you dispose of in the toilet or in your drains. Household chemicals can destroy the bacteria in your septic tank, and garbage disposals can add unnecessary solids and grease to your system.

Conserve water whenever possible and try to distribute your laundry and other chores that require water use throughout the week to avoid overloading your system on any particular day.

Monitor your septic tank annually and have a reputable contractor pump it out every three to five years.

Ground Cover

Ground covers are the answer to many problems in home landscapes. It may be a shade area, it may be a dry, sunny bank or some other reason grass won't grow.

Most plants that are categorized in this area are low-maintenance plants. The name implies what these plants do. Usually, these plants just need a lot of care to get them established. Once established there is very little maintenance. Planting ground covers required soil preparation. Frequent watering is a must to establish these plants. It is even a good idea to put in some type of herbicide since removal of weeds is sometimes difficult after the ground cover begins growing.

Ground covers plants are an excellent choice when you are having problems trying to grow grass.

Flu & Pneumonia Shots Are Still Available

The Coffee County Health Department, located at the intersection of Troy Highway, 167 North and Coffee County Road 48, Enterprise, AL will give Flu and Pneumonia shots on the following dates:

November 15, 1990 (Thurs) 4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.

For further information call 347-9574 between 8:00 a.m. & 5:00 p.m.

Gain Control Of Your Money

Charlotte Martin - Assistant County Agent in Training

We hear the term "money management" more and more these days. But what does it really mean and how can it relate to you and me? Well, for one thing if we don't manage our money, chances are it will manage us!

The first step to gaining control of our money is simply (or not so simply) to keep up with where it is going. How much is the rent or house payment? Car payment and other credit payments? How much is being spent for groceries? Eating out? Utilities? I could go on and on. It is different for each of us. When keeping track of where money is going, it is best not to guess at amounts, but actually write these amounts down as the money is spent and keep the receipts. Keep track of small expenses as well as larger ones; it's amazing how small expenses can add up to be quite large.

After keeping up with this for some time - preferably at least a month - review where your money is going. You may be surprised that you are spending so much in certain areas. These are called "leaks in spending," and may be areas that could be cut back.

Think about what you want your money to do for you and what things are important to you and your family. You are then ready to make a spending plan or budget for yourself and/or family. Take your income into consideration. The amounts allowed for spending and saving should not exceed the income. Everyone's budget will be different, but all budgets should allow for personal needs, some wants, and savings. Savings is often the element that gets left out.

Simply making a budget is not enough. Although it takes dedication to stick to a budget, the rewards are great. Remember - you can use your money to help you have good health, a comfortable home, funds for emergencies, recreation and education; but you must know what you want, make a spending plan, follow your plan, and change the plan when necessary.

We are all guilty of making hasty purchases or buying things we don't really need from time to time. When this becomes the rule rather than the exception, it may be time to take a closer look at our spending habits.

Compulsive spending creates severe financial problems and may indicate other unmet personal needs and concerns. If your answer is yes to one or more of the following statements it may be time to seriously analyze spending.

1. I usually spend money spontaneously or impulsively.
2. I often buy things I don't need or want because they are on sale.
3. I sometimes go to work late, leave early or take extra-long lunch hours to shop.
4. I often shower gifts on my family or acquaintances even when I can't afford it.
5. I usually go shopping alone or with certain people who always encourage me to buy things.
6. When I have a hard time deciding between several things to buy, I often buy them all.
7. When I get compelled urge to buy, it is almost "mystical" in that certain things seem to be inviting me to buy them.
8. I often don't like things after I've bought them.
9. I've sometimes bought clothes or accessories that I've never worn or that do not coordinate with my other clothing.
10. I often hid purchases (other than gifts) from other people.
11. I've accumulated a lot of unpaid bills or charges as a result of shopping and spending.
12. I often spend money to make up for other things that are missing in my life.
